

Agnes Nõmm, Tallinn (EE), Experiences

Being a young single mother years ago and a sole provider to my child I had to make a decision to quit school. I was too young to fully understand its real influence to my future. Some years after, my second child was born and time went by by taking care of my children and building up my professional career. Going back to school was always in my thoughts and I planned to make it a reality one day. Lack of education sets limits to a career growth, therefore, three years ago, after 20 year break, I took an important step and decided to continue school. I have to admit, it was not easy at the beginning, however, one of the best decisions I have ever made.

Tallinn Old Town Adults' Secondary School is a school that is focused to offer the best education for an adult learner. The teachers are treating students as an equal partner and offering flexible learning options also for working students. It is a school with good reputation that provides quality education and sets the stage for successful next step in university.

I will graduate high school in spring 2017 and hope to continue my studies in university.
